

Developer Technical Exercise

Postcode API Integration v1.1

Thank you for agreeing to attempt our developer technical exercise.

Your task is to use this open source API: <https://postcodes.io/> to satisfy the given user story. Please do not spend too much time on this task - provide enough work to demonstrate your capabilities and allow us to have a good conversation about your work during a follow-up.

It is advised that you store your solution in a publicly accessible git repository.

We hope you enjoy this exercise - Good Luck

User Story:

As a user,
I want to search for a postcode in the UK
So that I can retrieve its geographical information and have it displayed to me.

Notes:

You can use any technology that you think is suitable for this task. The brief has been kept deliberately vague to allow you scope to apply your own assumptions and interpretations and to demonstrate your skills.
